

Norm Sculley

Norm Sculley, an athlete in his own right, has been the "Voice of the Bears" at Norwalk High School for more than 20 years.

Taking over the task of public address announcer for Norwalk High basketball during Calvin Murphy's senior year, Sculley added football for both Brien McMahon and Norwalk during the following football season. He has handled the Norwalk High P.A. system since, including specials, such as former principal Eric C. Malmquist's retirement dinner and the dedication of the Joseph F. Andrews Field.

But Norm Sculley was also an outstanding baseball player and grid star over 40 years ago, as well as an excellent swimmer. He has also been active as an organizer, coach, and manager.

He played outfield for Norwalk High and for other local clubs, including the Potato Chips and East Norwalk AC. A good left-handed batter, he hit for average.

In football, he was a bulwark on the Spring Hill Tigers, helping the uptowners win several post-war championships as a guard, center, and linebacker.

He coached the East Norwalk Community Little League team and helped organize the Norwalk Athletic Association. Recently, he was an organizer of the Norwalk Mariners' womens' fast pitch softball team, and he continues as an officer and director. As president of the Norwalk High Fathers Club, he established three sports banquets to insure equal recognition for each sport.

He is a member of the Spring Hill Tigers "Tony" Reda scholarship committee and is active in many civic activities. Currently, he is vice president of the Rotary Club.

Norm and his wife, the former Betty Bracken, have four children and two grandchildren and reside at 17 Marian Avenue. He is personnel manager and office manager at R. T. Vanderbilt Co.
